

London walking map: 3 classic walks

● Royal London & Westminster · 4.3 km ● South Bank to the Tower · 5.6 km

● Bloomsbury & the West End · 3 km

Royal London & Westminster: 4.3 km · about 54 min walking · 10 stops. Start at 10:30 to catch the Changing of the Guard on its days.

South Bank to the Tower: 5.6 km · about 1 h 10 min walking · 8 stops. Walk it late afternoon for sunset over the river from the Millennium Bridge.

Bloomsbury & the West End: 3.0 km · about 37 min walking · 6 stops. Ends among Soho's restaurants: book dinner before a West End show.

Walking times at an easy 4.8 km/h without stops: allow two to three times as long with visits. Live map with opening hours and tickets: londontouristmap.com/walking-map/ · Map data © OpenStreetMap contributors.

Royal London & Westminster

4.3 km · about 54 min walking · 10 stops

1. Buckingham Palace

Step into the working headquarters of the British monarchy, where state occasions and royal hospitality unfold.

2. Victoria Memorial

Walk the length of The Mall and find Queen Victoria's monument standing with Buckingham Palace behind it.

3. St. James's Park

Wander lakeside paths past pelicans and ducks, with Buckingham Palace rising at the far end of the water.

4. Horse Guards Parade

Stand on the large parade ground off Whitehall and picture the ranks of Trooping the Colour, the ceremony marking the monarch's official birthday.

5. Trafalgar Square

Stand at the foot of Nelson's Column and watch the fountains throw spray across the stone while pigeons wheel overhead.

6. National Gallery

Step off Trafalgar Square into rooms of paintings spanning the mid-13th century to 1900, and let the canvases hold your attention for as long as you like.

7. 10 Downing Street

Stroll down a narrow street off Whitehall and find the famous black front door of Number 10, where Britain's prime minister works.

8. Westminster Abbey

Walk the same stone floors where 40 monarchs were crowned and trace royal tombs and poets' memorials under soaring Gothic vaults.

9. Big Ben

Tilt your head back beneath the clock tower at Westminster and wait for the Great Bell to strike.

10. London Eye

Rise slowly above the Thames in a glass capsule and watch London spread out in every direction.

Tip: Start at 10:30 to catch the Changing of the Guard on its days. · londontouristmap.com/walking-map/ · Map data © OpenStreetMap contributors.

WALK 2 OF 3

South Bank to the Tower

5.6 km · about 1 h 10 min walking · 8 stops

1. London Eye

Rise slowly above the Thames in a glass capsule and watch London spread out in every direction.

2. Tate Modern

Step inside a former power station on the Thames and wander through the UK's national collection of modern and contemporary art.

3. Shakespeare's Globe

Step into a rebuilt Elizabethan playhouse on the Thames and picture the crowds who once packed in for Shakespeare.

4. Millennium Bridge

Cross the steel span linking Bankside and the City, with the Thames wide and glinting beneath your feet.

5. St Paul's Cathedral

Stand beneath Wren's great dome, finished in 1710, and feel the hush of a working cathedral on Ludgate Hill.

6. The Monument to the Great Fire of London

Stand where the first church lost to the Great Fire once stood, beneath a 202-foot column raised to remember 1666.

7. Tower of London

Trace two rings of walls and a moat around a fortress begun in 1066, then stand beneath the White Tower that gives it its name.

8. Tower Bridge

Stand on the bridge above the Thames and watch the river slide past the Tower of London's walls.

Tip: Walk it late afternoon for sunset over the river from the Millennium Bridge. · londontouristmap.com/walking-map/ · Map data © OpenStreetMap contributors.

WALK 3 OF 3

Bloomsbury & the West End

3.0 km · about 37 min walking · 6 stops

1. British Museum

Step into eight million artefacts that trace human history from its earliest beginnings to today.

2. Seven Dials Market

An indoor food hall in an old banana warehouse, where you can graze from stall to stall and sit out a shower with a drink.

3. Covent Garden Market

The covered 1830s market hall holds shops, craft stalls and cafés, with the London Transport Museum next door to stretch the day out.

4. Royal Opera House

Take a seat in Covent Garden's Royal Opera House and let opera, ballet or orchestral music fill the room.

5. Carnaby Street

Stroll a car-free lane of independent fashion boutiques and lifestyle shops in Soho.

6. Liberty London

Wander a vast mock-Tudor store where bold floral prints sit alongside fashion, beauty and homeware from new labels.

Tip: Ends among Soho's restaurants: book dinner before a West End show. · londontouristmap.com/walking-map/ · Map data © OpenStreetMap contributors.